

A confluence of Karnataka and Bengal

Arun Kumar Samaddar's Ghats of Benaras

Jaydevanna's Journey

More than thirty artists, including seven contemporary stalwarts from Karnataka and Bengal will come together for an art show Brushstrokes 2013 Bangalore at Karnataka Chitrakala Parishath.

The show will display an eclectic mix of themes, styles, isms and genres. The collection of paintings cover landscapes, abstracts, figurative, miniatures, folk art, fusions across media such as watercolour, acrylic and oil on canvas.

Organised by colouren-tice.com, a platform created by a group of like-minded corporate individuals such as bankers and marketing professionals, who dropped their flourishing careers for the cause of promoting Indian art, the art show aims at benefiting less privileged artists.

On display at the exhibition will be works of noted artists from Karnataka including Ganesh Doddamani, Jaydevanna, Dr Archana Gupta, Dilip Kale, Jagannath, Shekhar Bellari. Also on display will be works of senior artists from Kolkata including Dhiren Sasmal, Anjan Bhattacharyya, Arun Kumar Samadder, Subrata Ghosh,

Archana Gupta's Colourful Ganesha

Rajib Surroy and Dwijen Gupta.

The exhibition will be inaugurated today by actors Jayamala and Bhavna.

Brushstrokes 2013 Bangalore at Karnataka Chitrakala Parishath from December 11-17

— Express Features